The issue with the games dlc is that it wants to run through 'Games for Windows Live' to activate, and I've noticed that a couple people have been unable to use their dlc as a result. If you tried to log in, GfWL would hang and your game would freeze.

It was by chance that I was able to solve my problem by doing the following:

- 1) When GfWL activates I selected 'log into existing account'
- 2) There would then be an option to 'create local account' located in the main body of text. This would bypass logging into the GfWL service.
- 3) You are then prompted to type in a user name (any will do)
- 3) The game will then go through the process of activating your dlc, and should then work accordingly.

If you had troubles registering your dlc and this process worked for you please give it a thumbs up for visibility to help others..
